

-
- 1) Conflict theorists and consensus theorists can legitimately co-exist in Sociology.
A.) True, both can cast light on our society B.) False, in science, one has to be true to the exclusion of the other.
- 2) Functionalism tends to be associated with conservatism and conflict theory tends to be associated with liberalism or radicalism. A.) True B.) False
- 3) C. Wright Mills added the institution of the media to the three concerns of Marx, which were economic, political, and ideological. A.) True B.) False – he added the military-industrial-complex
- 4) The four requirements for a person of color to rise to the top of the athletic or entertainment field are color, family, education, and presentation management. Best answer:
A.) True B.) False C.) We did not talk about this.
- 5) Zimmerman and West indicate that we “do gender” all the time. What captures this the best:
a) We pay women less
b) We echo the gender structures in which we find ourselves
c) We raise girls to be sweet
d) We disregard or demean the features that we associate with women in our value structure
e) We force everyone into the norm of heterosexual relationships
- 6) The three stages of a group, to Dahrendorf, are:
a) Primitive, organic, revolutionary
b) Mechanical, organic, free
c) Quasi, interest, conflict
d) Practical, interest, manifest
e) Reactive, Proactive, Creative
- 7) The “Looking Glass Self” is a concept of
a) C. Wright Mills
b) Robert Merton
c) Herbert Marcuse
d) Charles Horton Cooley
e) Davis and Moore
- 8) By reflexive self, Mead meant
a) The self thinks about itself
b) The self is obtained via interaction with others
c) The self is never complete d) The self is fluid
e) all of these
- 9) One who keeps a neat little cubicle and never has a new idea or takes a risk and is seemingly content with a small weekly paycheck and keeps all emotion inside and loves routine is, according to Merton, a:
a) Conformist
b) Suffers from anomie
c) A ritualist
d) A retreatist
e) A modern-day technocrat
- 10) A self-fulfilling prophecy is a case where
a) A prophet gets it right about himself
b) Something is forced to occur
c) Because people believe something is true, it is going to become true
d) A matter of opinion, for who is to interpret what happens
e) The police determine what is right

- 11) Marcuse called for what he named "middle-range" theories. A) true B) False (that was Merton)
- 12) According to Mead, a game differs from play in that
- a) Props are typically needed
 - b) Gender roles take hold
 - c) Game players need to be conscious of one another's roles
 - d) Score is kept
 - e) Boys excel at games
- 13) According to Merton, anomie has to do with
- a) The values
 - b) The motivations
 - c) The era
 - d) The opportunity structure
 - e) The technology
- 14) A latent function
- a) Comes before a consequence
 - b) Is the expected result
 - c) Meshes with the subgroups of society
 - d) Is unexpected, unanticipated
 - e) is in conflict, along with class interests
- 15) Parsons saw everything in terms of four functions. Which one was not one of his four?
- a) Setting a goal
 - b) Getting everyone on board and involved
 - c) Legalizing procedures
 - d) Reacting to whatever new happens
 - e) Standard operations
- 16) According to Davis and Moore, several things motivate people to get jobs and keep them. Their vision is that we work for:
- a) Food, shelter, and relationships
 - b) Comforts, relationships, and meaning
 - c) Money, self esteem, and fun – expression
 - d) The boss, the family, the culture
 - e) The corporation, the government, or the private sector
- 17) Habermas invoked what as the cause for his call for the need for active empathy with others:
- a) The economy
 - b) Change
 - c) Diversity
 - d) Technology
 - e) Racism
- 18) If a person suddenly sings to make a point in a social situation, Mead might say that
- a) The person is expressing herself
 - b) The person might be labeled deviant
 - c) The person's "I" has spoken (or sung)
 - d) The person's "me" is probably listening
 - e) Both c and d
- 19) Unlike religion and earlier belief systems, social science is objective and is not influenced by the time in which it emerged. A) True B) False
- 20) Who said that all ideas are from the past and therefore not applicable to the present?
- a) Dahrendorf
 - b) Marcuse
 - c) Habermas
 - d) Mills
 - e) Hochschild